SEAMLESS TRANSITIONS
THROUGHOUT YOUR HOME.

NOVO SPA Oak Victoria

Stay relaxed - throughout your home:

Rigid vinyl

It starts with the first thoughts about your new home. And with the first flashes of inspiration for the new furnishings followed by countless decisions. You experience highs and lows, wade through quotes and proposals, good and bad ideas. But you desire only one thing: to create a living space that gives you a sense of comfort and well-being. Design rooms with appeal. Dream up a home that gives you a sense of security. Give your children and pets a relaxed life and admire the stunning, new design - the stage for your life.

There's only one thing you definitely do not want, and that's making bad decisions that could cost you a lot of money. You want one right decision. A decision that lets you stay relaxed when life happens.

Authentic down to the smallest detail.

Rigid yet soft.

What is rigid vinyl?

Rigid vinyl (also called Rigid Board) is a product that features a new mounting board made of vinyl. This mounting board is highly filled with limestone, which has a positive effect on the thermoplastic properties. The floorboard becomes more rigid and stable, milling is more precise and accurate and click-connections are stronger. Vinyl rigid boards consist of several layers of vinyl, an extremely hard-wearing and robust material.

CONSTRUCTION

1 0.3 or 0.55 mm vinyl:

This robust material is easy to maintain and perfect for those who don't want to compromise.

2 LVT film design:

Deceptively realistic imitations impress even wood and stone aficionados.

3 Rigid Board:

Enriched with limestone, the core makes the Rigid Board dimensionally stable and robust.

4 IXPE counter act:

The new foaming technology behind the IXPE counter act dampens impact sound.

GOOD TO KNOW.

All rigid vinyl products are also available in HDF vinyl tilo offers a wide selection of vinyl floors. Every rigid vinyl design is also available in HDF vinyl, with individual designs also available in glued vinyl:

Unique: all rigid vinyl products are also available for stairs

All rigid vinyl designs are also available in various versions for stairs, so you can enjoy your dream design on every level with tilo.

Vinyl rigid boards have been awarded the TÜV PROFiCERT accreditation tilo is audited once a year by an external, accredited testing institute. In addition to this, tilo floor covering products are tested for emissions, to ensure that the manufactured products "promote healthy living". This means tilo rigid vinyl is also subject to the most stringent criteria.

Save money with integrated impact sound insulation

Impact sound insulation comes included with our rigid vinyl, so there's no need for extra impact sound insulation with a floating installation in this case. But don't forget the polyethylene sheeting.

The waterproof floor that does it all.

1

Incredibly strong & incredibly beautiful

We've all been there. Children who make their mark for posterity, pets who leave tracks in the living room or situations where we're a bit clumsy and spill water on the floor. Wouldn't it be nice if you could stay relaxed despite it all? Rigid vinyl is made of an extremely robust material. The dirt-resistant varnish surface and sturdy middle layer make rigid vinyl an ideal solution for those who enjoy an eventful everyday life.

Made of plastic, rigid vinyl is 100% waterproof. This material doesn't react to water, so swelling is no issue. With full spread gluing, the rigid vinyl subsurface also enjoys 24-hour protection against moisture – so the floor can also be laid in damp locations with temporary damp conditions of up to 80% relative air humidity, including occasional water splashes.* And you can enjoy the beautiful, natural look of a wood floor or elegant stone effect throughout your home.

100% waterproof

* Not suitable for wet locations in shower cubicles and the like.

Warm feet, soft steps

The vinyl rigid board is a floor that keeps your feet warm, your steps quiet and your mood relaxed. It's all thanks to the innovative, 4-layer construction of the floor. A key feature is the integrated IXPE impact sound insulation, which ensures that the sound of footsteps is more effectively dampened. This makes the floor very quiet compared to laminate or tiles. The result is pure relaxation for you and your loved ones.

Are you embarking on a renovation soon? Are you sure that you want to take on the painstaking, time-consuming job of pulling up all those old tiles? With rigid vinyl floors, you won't need to. They are incredibly thin and can be glued directly on top of tiles - which doesn't mean they aren't a standout choice for a new build as well. Its low installation height and resistance to water make this floor a great fit in any room.

For redecorating and fresh looks

Energy efficient and 100% recyclable

You love the environment and nature. And you want a floor that's energy efficient, especially in times like these. Thanks to the material's thinness and high density, rigid vinyl is ideal for conducting heat. Plus, this innovative product is made of 100% recyclable materials and doesn't need to be separated into individual layers for disposal. This means vinyl rigid boards not only look great but are also energy-efficient and designed with the environment in mind.

Incredibly simple

Installation.

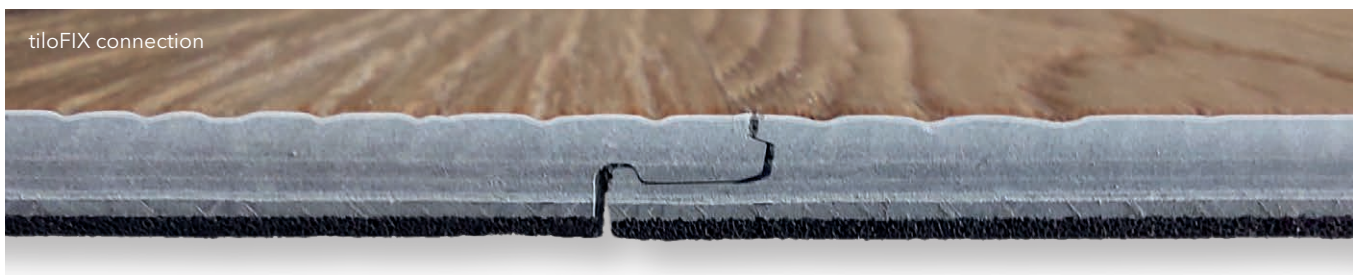

tiloFIX is a connection designed to make installations incredibly simple. The tiloFIX system lets you simply click the planks together, making this job quick, clean and dust free.

DIY or professional installation?

Laying a floor is a craft. Depending on your DIY skills, you can lay the floor yourself or have it laid for you. Our handy videos on how to install and glue the floor explain everything step by step. But we recommend that the gluing in particular is carried out by a professional.

Glued or floating installation?

Generally speaking, rigid vinyl floors can be installed as floating flooring or with full spread gluing. The floating installation is especially easy, but the full spread gluing should be carried out by a professional. We recommend full spread gluing for underfloor heating or areas subjected to especially heavy use, and full spread gluing is a must in damp locations. Please note that full spread gluing is the only way to ensure 24-hour protection against moisture for rigid vinyl.

For the love of floors.

Maintenance & care.

The floor is laid, the skirting boards are in place and the stairs are finished. What remains is the irrepressible joy. The foundation on which to realise your dreams is in place – the stage for your life.

And here at tilo, we make sure that feeling isn't just a fleeting moment but lasts for many years to come. We know our floors, from the ground up, and we know exactly what they need.

QUICK, EASY AND UNIVERSAL

All of our cleaning and care products are specially developed to meet the requirements of our tilo floors. They are kind to the surfaces, have a revitalising effect and make your floors look as good as the day they were laid. And the best thing is, you don't need any other cleansing agents. Whether you need to do a quick wipe in between cleans or a more intensive treatment, tilo cleaning and care products are up for every task.

We distinguish between the following levels of soiling:

- Light to medium soiling

We recommend a wet clean with tilo soap and a subsequent treatment using tilo Quick Care.

- Heavy soiling

In this case, it is best to use tilo Intensive Cleaner – it dissolves the dirt from all surfaces. Afterwards, an intensive care product tailored to your floor must be applied to restore the surface.

You can obtain further information about cleaning and care products – SOAP, QUICK CARE, INTENSIVE CLEANER and INTENSIVE CARE – from your floor stockist and by visiting tilo.com.

tilo: a history of excellence.

Here in the heart of Austria, we transform valuable raw materials into elegant floors, stairs and skirting boards every year.

We're down-to-earth and often unconventional, taking an intelligent approach as we push the boundaries in our work. Our aim is to never stop moving forwards and excelling ourselves – whether this involves new processes, digital support for consumers or new products like tilo Rigid Board.

Behind every product are people who are absolutely driven to make a contribution with their skill and ingenuity.

Initially founded as Tischlerei Lohnsburg, today we are a family-run business dedicated to floors, stairs and skirting boards with around 250 employees. "We can say with all honesty that we have built our extensive knowledge of floors 'from the ground up'. Since 1950 we have been transforming high-quality raw materials into really special products," says CEO Herbert Kendler.

Over the years, we have not only increased our flooring-related knowledge through extensive diligence and careful attention to detail, but also our understanding of our consumers' needs. Even if conditions change - our values stay the same.

Our employees

put their skill, ingenuity and love of quality materials into creating something new every day.
